[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO FEBRUARY 4.

The Bonapartists at Work.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 2.—The peace negotiations created great consternation in the camp of the Imperialists, who had hoped to treat directly with Bismarck, and return to France through a treaty of peace. Desperate efforts are now making to enter into negotiations with the Prussian Government.

A. Rouher has gone to Versailles, and Comte to Wilhelmshohe. A report is current that the Empress and Princess Mathilde are here.

Russia Carries her Points.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—At the meeting of the Conference to-day Russia fully gained her object. All her pretensions were acknowledged. She yielded nothing, and Turkey gains no new feature.

Movements of Garibaldi.

BERNE, Feb. 3.—Garibaldi is retreating southward.

The second parallel at Belfort was opened yesterday.

News by way of London.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The Foreign Office announces that an offer has been made to Bismarck and Favre to place English resources at their disposal for the supply of Paris, under the superintendence of French Government agents.

The Conference met this afternoon. All of the Powers except France were represented.

Travelers leaving Paris on Wednesday have reached Brussels. The city was now quiet. There was a slight disorder on the receipt of the news of the armistice, but they were easily appeased. There is great difficulty in obtaining food. Two hundred and thirty thousand persons had already asked to leave the city.

Death of Bourbaki

BRUSSELS, Feb. 4.—The Gaulois has a telegram that Bourbaki has succumbed to his wounds.

Prussians Marching on Havre.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Fifty thousand Prussians are marching on Havre, and other corps are following.

General News from France.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—A dispatch to the Times from Versailles yesterday says Favre refuses to attend the Conference or appoint a substitute, but will authorize M. Digot, the present French Charge d'Affairs in London, to act as the Representative of France.

Prince Frederick Charles has removed his headquarters to Tours.

It is said that Garibaldi and his command are to be [illegible] in the armistice.

Elections for members of the National Assembly will take place [illegible] and Departments, [illegible] the Assembly who will consist of 750 deputies will meet on the 12th at Bordeaux.

Delegates from many parts of France concur in expressing the determination of the people to continue the war until the terms proposed by Germany are greatly ameliorated.

An offer has been made by Bismarck to extend the provisions of the armistice to the southeastern departments, but has not been accepted by France, as the surrender of Belfort was one condition.

The following is the text of that portion of the Convention for an armistice concluded between Bismarck and Favre, which relates to operations in the East: Military operations in the territory of the departments of Jura and Cotedor, as well as the seige of Belfort, shall continue, independent of this armistice, until an agreement is arrived at regarding the lines of demarkation, the tracing of which throughout the departments mentioned, is reserved for an ulterior demonstration. Gens. Faidherbe and Dargent, refusing to evacuate their positions in accordance with the terms of the armistice, have received orders from Bordeaux to comply.

Another Call of German Landwehr.

SAARBRUCKEN, Feb. 2.—Another call on Landwehr, between the ages of 27 and 47, was issued to-day. From the new reserve, 300,000 men will be ready to march into France at short notice.

Dispatches from Versailles.

VERSAILLES, Feb. 1.—The Emperor visited Valerien yesterday. He leaves the army at the close of the armistice. Should the war be prolonged, it will be pursued relentlessly. Prince Frederick Charles, Manteuffel and Falkenstein are to be entrusted with the task of conquering the south; Moltke will retain supervision, but a large amount of discretion will be allowed the actual commanders.

The condition of Paris is terrible. The populace are violently excited against England. Favre has requested the German authorities not to allow Englishmen to enter. He considers their lives unsafe.

From Bordeaux.

BORDEAUX, Feb. 2.—The capitulation is regarded here as disastrous. Active preparations are making for elections. A meeting was held today, which indulged in abuse of Favre, and resolved to oppose to the death all attempts to sever Alsace and Lorraine, and to support for election to the General Government these five members: Gambetta, Rollin, Grevo, Fleurens and Thiers.

A Protest from Bismarck.

VERSAILLES, Feb. 3.—Bismarck points to Gambetta's decree of the ineligibility of former functionaries as corroborative of the fear that he expressed to Favre that elections would not be free, wherefore he proposed a convocation of the Corps Legislatif, which Favre refused. In a note Bismarck protests against the decree. Germany will only recognize freely elected deputies. The statement of the Commissioner of Peace, as regards Alsace, is incorrect. The Germans are to keep Alsace and Metz. The indemnity demanded of Favre was four million, though the figures may possibly have been doubled since.

Miscellaneous Telegrams.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Conference, after prolonged deliberations, adjourned till Tuesday.

It was falsely reported that Eugenie left Chiselhurst for the Continent, and also that M. Henry has arrived in England on a special mission.

The rumor is unconfirmed that Bourbaki is dead.

About 180,000 prisoners were taken at Paris; also 1,500 cannon, 400 field pieces and mitrailleurs. Gunboats on the Seine, rolling stock and railways, are likewise appropriated by the Dutchmen.

The Gaulois says the Paris Government has withdrawn the powers of the Bordeaux delegation.

SAARBRUCKEN, Feb. 3.—The bridges are restored and all the trains at Epernay are again running.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 3.—It is said an attempt was made to assassinate Trochu.

It is said the Orleans Princes will not stand as candidates.

EASTERN STATES.

Senator Morton to be Secretary of State.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Mr. Simonton says Senator Morton will soon replace Secretary Fish, the latter resigning from personal considerations.

Aid for the French.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—A committee of the Chamber of Commerce, appointed to extend aid to France, held an adjourned meeting to-day. It was resolved that the Treasurer be instructed to notify the American Minister at Paris that the sum of $20,000 will be placed to his credit at once, to be used by him in the purchase of supplies. A committee of five was appointed to receive supplies of grain, provisions, &c., and take charge of the shipment of the same. An appeal to the people, urging them to contribute funds and supplies for the starving people of France, adopted. Subscriptions may be sent to La Mer, Treasurer No. 27 Pine street, or to any member of the committee, which includes several prominent merchants and bankers. For French ports direct, three steamships are chartered to load with Government stores. Freight engagements for these vessels embrace large quantities of provisions, including some 10,000 barrels of beef, on the basis of about fifty shillings per ton.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Capt. James M. Sadden, of a lumber vessel, was arrested on a complaint of his wife, who charges that he committed bigamy by contracting marriage with Jane Donohue, at Port Ludlow, Washington Territory, in January, of this year.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Gambetta's Reply to Bismarck.

BORDEAUX, Feb. 4.—Gambetta has replied to Bismarck's protest against the electoral disqualifications by decree of the Bordeaux Government. Gambetta warmly defends that document, and says it frustrates the plans of Bismarck and his accomplices of the fallen dynasty and their inordinate pretensions. The best justification of the Bordeaux Government is in the public meeting which was held last night, which resolved in mass convention to prosecute the war to the death, and requested Gambetta to accept the Presidency of the Committee of Public Safety.

Gen. Billot, commanding the 18th French corps, has arrived at Lyons, and reports that the retreat of the Army of the East was caused by want of provisions and munitions. The effect of the armistice there has been demonstrations of a warlike character on the part of the people of Lyons. They assembled in public meetings and paraded the streets shouting.

McMahon Denies Bismarck's Statement.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—McMahon in a letter denies the truth of the Prussian report that the French at the battle of Woerth used explosive bullets and that the French officers were allowed to cross into Belgian soil.

Navigation of the Danube.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 4.—It is stated on reliable authority that the London Conference having considered the treaty relative to the navigation of the Danube apart from the Black Sea question, excludes it from further deliberation on the Danubian question. A European commission having charge of the navigation of that river, therefore it remains in force. To this course England, Germany and Russia raise no objection, and the Porte has given his consent.

Dispatch from Florence.

FLORENCE, Feb. 4.—The efforts of neutral powers to intervene in the peace negotiations at Versailles encounter great difficulties.

The first claim of the Papal guarantee bill has been carried through the Chamber of Deputies.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Government of Alaska

[illegible] Territory of Alaska [illegible] with the [illegible] and [illegible] of the Territory of Washington. [illegible] It extends [illegible] tory to the [illegible] Councilmen and [illegible] Legislature of Washington Territory.

Nomination Confirmed

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Samuel Coulter as the Collector of Internal Revenue for Washington Territory.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—It has [illegible] steadily all day, and still continues. Wind [illegible] to the south and warm.

The ship Germania was sold at auction at Merchants' Exchange to-day, and purchased for the Bellingham Bay Coal Company for twelve thousand dollars.

Judge Lake held the managers of the Oakland Land Lottery to answer on a charge of violation of the anti lottery law of the State.

The three robbers who went through the San Mateo and Spanish Town stage, in San Andreas valley, January 23d, getting $2,000 from Wells, Fargo & Co.'s box, have all been arrested. Their names are William Miner, Charles Cooper and Ali Hadjim. The last two were arrested here. Cooper made a full confession. The money is not yet recovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Weather clear and fine.

An excursion by the steamer Sacramento and cars was made from this city to Santa Rosa today. The road was found in excellent order. Everything passed off satisfactorily. The run down from Donahue's was made in two hours and fifteen minutes. Wheat along the route is looking fine, many fields averaging five inches in height with prospects for a No. 1 crop.

Steamers Orizaba and Wm. Taber sailed for San Diego and way ports to-day with very large number of passengers.

The steamer Newburn Booth arrived to-day with the crew and what was saved from the wrecked whaling Brig Massachusetts. The shipwrecked party did not see any oranges growing and no grass up to a horse's back; and gave anything but an enthusiastic description of that earthly paradise.

Interest in billiard matches appears to be some what on the wane, but few bets being made on the result of the final match between Dion and Deery. The visit of Rudolphe and Cyrille Dion will probably revive the excitement.

Judge Pennie held Dr. Albert Twiller, of Sutsun, to trial for forgery, fixing his bail at $1,500. The case has attracted much interest, being, altogether, of a novel character.

Horrible Murder near Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—The bodies of Penny and Oscar Bilderbeck, who have been missing for some three weeks, were found yesterday. It seems they owned and were at work on a wood claim near town, and they had some difficulty with the owners of the adjoining claim. Bilderbeck brothers were followed one day in the early part of last month by Alfred Henry and Gardner, of the adjoining claim, and a man named Backskin. Shortly afterwards five shots in rapid succession were heard, since which time the former have been missing. After a careful search the bodies were found buried near their camp, wrapped in their own blankets. One was shot through the heart, and the other had four bullet wounds, and both with their heads mashed in. George Woodhue, an employee of Gardner, who heard the shooting, was furnished with money by Gardner and told to leave the country. He went as far as Wilmington and informed the authorities of the murder, which resulted in the arrest of Gardner, and warrants are now out for the other parties.

WAR MISCELLANY.

German artisans and merchants are suffering in considerable numbers at Metz, and many well-to-do French residents announce their intention of selling their property and leaving whenever it is ceded to Germany.

King William has decorated General Von der Tann, commander of the Bavarian First Army corps, with the order pour le merite, and has sent him thirty iron crosses of the second class, to be distributed among the officers and men of the corps who have particularly distinguished themselves in battle.

Another Circular from Bismarck

HE INDICT [illegible]

[illegible] New York Herald.

BERLIN, Jan 1 [illegible]

Bismarck's circular addressed to the Prussian [illegible] to foreign courts in which he sets forth the French [illegible] of [illegible] the treatment of Prussian [illegible] parole, [illegible] published.

Premier Von Bismarck says that [illegible] the government of that [illegible] he believes that the [illegible] contains charges [illegible] by infamous and [illegible] sions.

Copies of [illegible] have the [illegible] of the [illegible] the [illegible] that the French have been guilty [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] frequently [illegible] with its regulations and rules of warfare. After the French had been daily [illegible] these rules, it could not be [illegible] conduct that they had been [illegible] to them. They continued to fire on the field hospitals. Surgeons serving [illegible] Prussian ambulances were wounded. According to the testimony of Dr. Burkhardt, a Swiss physician in the King's army, a French army physician confessed to him (Burkhardt) that he (the Frenchman) had himself shot with his revolver many Prussian prisoners. Numbers of the French troops assumed the cross of the Geneva Convention, as if they belonged to the Sanitary corps, when they were compelled to retreat, defeated in [illegible] After such instances of flagrant disregard of the very principle and rules of the Geneva Convention the German allied governments have—says Count Bismarck—been compelled to consider and ask each other how far they are bound to regard that instrument in force toward France.

Besides, says the Prussian Premier, the cases which were mentioned in my last circular, of 27th September, 1870, on this subject, other infractions of conventions of international law and of the general usages of civilized nations have been perpetrated by the French. Explosive balls were used by them in the battle of Woerth. Colonel [illegible] Dreckendorff was wounded by one of these missiles, as was Lieutenant Oertzen, near Tours, on the 29th of December, by another explosive. Lieutenant Oertzen, who was captured near Strasbourg, recollected having heard the French commander accusing the Baden troops of having used explosives, and also that he (the Frenchman) then threatened to permit a retaliation—even a violation of women—in consequence and for revenge. The Germans did not use explosive bullets. They had a bullet consisting of sixteen sharp edged pieces, which they fired; but the [illegible] and intent of this missile were openly submitted to the representatives of the foreign Powers serving in Berlin, and approved of by them, before they were placed in the hands of the Prussian soldiers in the field.

OUTRAGE AT SEA.

Count Bismarck goes on to instance. The French man-of-war Dessaix burned three German ships at sea, instead of having them first condemned by a prize court:

VIOLATIONS ON LAND.

The German prisoners in the hands of the French have been, and are, badly treated. They are insufficiently fed, and confined in cold and damp prisons.

In Germany nothing of this sort has occurred.

The French Turcos committed the most beastly outrages both on the wounded and dead Prussians. To this they were urged on by the utterances of French newspapers. The Independence Algerine expressed its "pity for the poor Turcos," for men who had just cut off the ears, noses and heads of the German wounded.

At Villeneuve, Servi and Autun, French peasants, excited to the deed by the prefects, shot German soldiers from behind the hedges and trees on the wayside.

The French Government promised a reward to every French officer escaping from his parole, and thereby breaking the laws of honor and of war.

INTERFERENCES.

Such proceedings, says Count Bismarck, are only [illegible] ship of French rulers, who excite the worst passions of the people and who "muzzle" the liberty of the press, for the very purpose of deceiving the same people as to the real state of affairs existing at their country, and who by so doing [illegible] popular fury which they do not desire to keep within the bounds of international law and the lines of the usages of European war.

MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 6, 1871.

Swamp Lands Again.

A Douglas county paper, the Plaindealer, has published an article on the swamp land question, which is endorsed by the Herald of this city as "a carefully written and correct statement of the present condition of the swamp lands of this State." Knowing the Herald's remarkable aptitude for blundering, we at once suspected that the article was totally wanting in correctness of statement, and on examining it we found it to be so. To begin with, the writer attempts to throw the blame of neglecting the selection of swamp lands in this State upon Republican officials, [illegible] on this point:

[illegible] Congress [illegible] under which this State became entitled to the swamp and overflowed lands, [illegible] March 3rd, 1860, by which the [illegible] the Act of September 28th, 1850, granting the same kind of lands to Arkansas and the States was extended to Minnesota and Oregon with the proviso, that the grant should not [illegible] any lands which the Government may have reserved sold or disposed of prior to the confirmation under the Act. The Act of [illegible] that these lands should be selected [illegible] the adjournment of the [illegible] next session after the passage [illegible] The reason [illegible] of the State was at that [illegible] too much immersed in the business of saving [illegible] to do more than locate the lands, to which the State was otherwise entitled, upon these same lands [illegible] drawing away one half the [illegible] to which the State was entitled. It is [illegible] fault. [illegible] the radical government of this State [illegible] the whole [illegible] revenue from this source was not forthcoming [illegible] everything in its power produced this result. Fortunately, the Act [illegible] was passed absolutely to the State, and [illegible] failure [illegible] neglect on the part of State or territorial officers [illegible] divest the State of its [illegible] The [illegible] be watchful [illegible] Governor Grover and others, the State is indebted for a treasury which is variously estimated at from one to two millions of dollars.

Now just observe [illegible] which this writer himself has furnished will serve to overturn his assertions [illegible] negligence of Republican officials.

He shows that the act under which this State became entitled to [illegible] and overflowed lands, was approved March 3d, 1860; that the act required the selections to be made within two years from the adjournment of the Legislature at its next session after the passage of the act. Now during [illegible] two years the State was under [illegible] next session of the Legislature began in September, 1860. Governor Whitaker was in the Executive chair which he occupied till September, 1862. The Legislature was two-thirds Democratic, there being only about [illegible] Republicans in both branches. This was the session at which action should have been taken in regard to the swamp and overflowed lands. But nothing whatever was done. The two years slipped away before the Republicans came into power. Democrats neglected the swamp lands till it was too late to act, and now attempt to charge the neglect upon Republicans. It may be that the Governor of the State Whitaker was too much immersed in the business of saving the Union to attend to the interests of the State in this particular, but no one has ever before accused him of being "immersed" in that business. A comparison of dates shows that it was in fact of the Democratic government of the State that the whole amount of the grant was not forfeited. Republicans decline most positively to be held accountable for the acts and omissions of the Democratic State government that existed up to September, 1862.

Let us see what was forfeited by the neglect of Democratic State officers. The act of March 3, 1860, provides that "the selection of swamp and overflowed lands) to be made from lands already surveyed in each of the States shall be made within [illegible] years," etc. In Oregon a selection was made consequently the State forever lost [illegible] to such swamp and overflowed lands as had already been surveyed. Those lands might have been secured, had the Democratic State government acted promptly. But they were out, and the State now has no official evidence that there are any other swamp lands within its borders. It cannot fix a claim on such lands as it may choose to regard as "swamp and overflowed" but it must wait until the government surveys are extended over them and the wet lands segregated from the dry. The State has not now in store such lands, and no official evidence that it ever will have. The action taken at the last session of the Legislature is therefore premature, and the provisions of the law then enacted are wholly inoperative.

From these facts it may be seen that the excuse which Governor Grover receives for his want of [illegible] in this matter is merely empty blackwater. If and those working with him have done nothing that will have the slightest effect in saving the grant. They have simply concocted a scheme whereby they expect to [illegible] out among themselves the swamp lands within the State. But as the State has no such lands and can have none till the General Government surveys and certifies them to the State, the whole of the recent proceedings under the act which the Legislature passed at the last session are farcical and of no effect whatever. Not half the land is worth [illegible] as attempting to get possession of it is, classed by the Government as swamp and overflowed tracts. The [illegible] fraud will spoil many a job that the ring is setting up.

It is said [illegible] that arrangements have been effected whereby a number of persons prominently connected with the Pennsylvania Central Railroad are to go into the Board of Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad Company. If this announcement is true it indicates [illegible] Pennsylvania Central has beaten [illegible] in the contest for a controlling interest in the Union Pacific. There is a tremendous rivalry between the Pennsylvania Central and its connections and the New York Central (Vanderbilt) and its extensions. Both parties have been making great exertions to get control of the Union Pacific. It was at first believed that Vanderbilt had succeeded, but later reports are true the Pennsylvania Central is likely to win.

The Sacramento Reporter, the Democratic "organ" of California, is alleged also to be an organ of the Central Pacific Railroad company. In an article on railroads and politics it declares "it will be about as feasible to keep the railroad influence out of our Conventions as to shut the sunlight from the earth." The Reporter is trying to open the Democratic mind of California to railroad conviction.

Does the property-holder of Portland want to take at the flood the tide that leads on to fortune? Let him go to the railroad meeting to-night!

Do you want your real estate to be worth ten per cent. more next week than it is this? Then come out to the railroad meeting to-night.

Humbled France.

There is some talk among the French of continuing the war. Of course that is sheer madness. How can the unorganized French stand against the iron battalions of Germany, now released from the seige of Paris and ready to march in all directions over France? Enough—too much—has already been done for honor. It is clear that the French are growing morally weaker with their successive disasters, and that they cannot again muster an army that will resist even as well as the army of the Loire has done. A correspondent of the New York World, who is friendly and even partial to the cause of France, in writing from Bordeaux some time before the fall of Paris, said "A gradual loss of courage begins to take possession of the French. The moral as well as material strength of resistance is broken. The people will not acknowledge it, but a sense of powerlessness has taken root among individuals, and in fact the whole population. They begin now no longer to blame the enemy, but themselves, and they look for the fault in their own houses and in the governors of their own land. Material interest plays, in our time, a great role; it is, in fact, of the greatest importance to the Frenchman, who is bound up heart and hand with the weal and woe of the state. He can for a time put up with the want of even the essentials of life, but now it is beginning to become unbearable." What remains? Nothing but submission, even though the terms be as hard as those imposed on Prussia by the first Napoleon.

A Little Balance.

Of course the people of Portland intend to raise the one hundred thousand. They do not think of allowing it to fail. Yet the time has almost expired, and the sum is not yet made up. Thursday next is the last day. The balance to be raised, however, is not large enough to be at all formidable. All that is wanted is for citizens to take some interest in it. Let them stop and think. Are they prepared to let this opportunity, this advantage, escape them? Is there any man who thinks Portland so sure of her future that she need never make an effort? Probably not. To allow this project to fail would be both a disgrace and a damaging blow. At the meeting this evening the balance of the sum should be made up. In fact it must be made up. A general call is made for citizens to attend. Let all who have subscribed and all who have not, be present. It is time for action. Portland must not incur the disgrace and loss that would follow failure. Be on hand, then, at the meeting! Talk it up during the day, and go in the evening and take your neighbor with you! If those who really feel an interest in the future of the city and who recognize the importance of this enterprise, will attend, the balance will be made up in half an hour.

The dispatches say that Russia has carried [illegible] points in the London Conference. Great Britain the prime mover in calling the [illegible] has acknowledged all of Russia's pretensions. The exclusion of the latter from the Black Sea will continue no longer, and she is now prepared to move down towards Constantinople. The prostration of France gives her this opportunity, and practically annihilates the influence of Great Britain in continental affairs. So when Prussia moves into Luxembourg and Holland, which she will do before the end of the present decade, what will Great Britain have to say? The manner in which she has met Russia on this occasion affords a sufficient answer. There is something very suggestive in the simultaneous announcement of the capitulation of Paris and the unconditional yielding of England to Russia's demands.

The Eugene Guard has no great admiration for the "litigant law," and says it "was passed at the instance of the State Printer, for the sole benefit of the Portland Hand-Organ." The Guard adds, "When the Radical press must howl let them address their remarks to that machine." It says, however, "So far as this act relates to the publication of estray notices we think it a good thing. And yet we are satisfied that if the sardine who imagines himself a whale had seen this point he would have had matters so arranged that the old law would have remained in force." Here is Democratic testimony both upon the litigant law and the "sardine" of the "hand-organ." The repute at which the said "organ" is held by its party affords a very fair estimate of its value.

The biggest scheme yet heard of is broached by a correspondent of the New York Tribune. It is nothing more nor less than the construction of a ship canal across the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The plan suggested is to connect the head waters of the Missouri with those of the Columbia, making locks around the falls and deepening the channels of the streams, so that steam navigation can be continuously prosecuted from ocean to ocean, or from St. Louis to the Pacific coast.

A "Library Association" has been organized at Albany. The library will be placed in the M. E. Church at that town for the present, until a building can be erected.

The Statesman reports that the Salem Woolen Mills are running to the full capacity, principally on cassimeres and blankets. The stocking manufacture is prospering.

A son of Ex-Senator Harding, aged 17 years, died at his father's residence near Fairfield, Marion county, a few days ago, from the effects of a gunshot wound, received some weeks since by accident from a drunken half-breed.

The Salem Statesman of February 4th says John Starbuck has been put under $500 bonds to answer a charge preferred by his own daughter, aged seventeen years, of an attempt to commit a rape. His wife has been been dead two months, and he is dissipated.

There is great excitement at Albany on the subject of railroad switches. Citizens can't agree as to the direction in which the side tracks are to run through their town. One party has gained a victory in the Council over the other, and the track is to run through Broadalbin street.

The Government has been advised that on the 14th of January there was filed in the office of the Recorder of Nevada county, California, a mortgage executed by the Central Pacific Railroad Company to Silas W. Sanderson, its legal adviser, and Charles Crocker, one of the Vice Presidents, Trustees, to secure the payment of $10,000,000. It is thought to be an effort of the company to defeat Judge Lawrence's bill. It is asserted that measures will be taken to secure the amount due Government from the Pacific Railroads.

A Washington dispatch of the 24th ult. says: An amendatory or supplemental bill to what is known as the Congressional Enforcement or Election Act, was agreed upon by the House Judiciary Committee at their meeting to-day, and will be passed through Congress, if possible, at the present session. The measure extends the operations of the Act of last session to cities of small size, and is really intended in its details to have effect on every election precinct in the country. While the former law seemed intended more especially for the alleged naturalization frauds in Northern cities, the new bill looks to the supervision of the colored vote in the South. It also remedies many of the defects discovered in the practical workings of the law last fall. The military feature, however, remains quite as strong, and virtually places the naval and military forces under command of the civil power, while it inflicts severe punishment for bribery or intimidation of votes.

SUBJECT—Toussaint L'Ouverture, the Hero of San Domingo.

[illegible] Toussaint L'Ouverture may well be [illegible] That remarkable [illegible] Assembly, and finally accepted the new order [illegible] Under his leadership [illegible] Spain to wrest San Domin [illegible] Republic of Hayti. [illegible] Island [illegible] and to [illegible] and dignified bearing of L'Ouverture, his [illegible] to form an intensely interesting [illegible] and can but little know. [illegible] coming in our new exciting so much attention [illegible] of this Leading Patriot of Republican times of interest concerning it [illegible] the people.

Mr. Riley [illegible] incidentally embodied [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] of this controversy [illegible] in regard to [illegible] tion, will give a purely historical address, devoid of political bias.

Those who have listened to Mr. Riley's platform addresses, need not be told that he speaks with fluency, correctness and fervor, and is master of a rhetoric which often rises to eloquence. When it is considered that his natural abilities have been aided by self-culture only, under the disadvantages peculiar to his race, no fair-minded person will fail to give him a respectful hearing.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.—During the month of January, 1871, the deeds recorded reached the number of 86, the aggregate considerations expressed in which amounted to $160,390. This sum, however, does not fairly express the value of real estate which changed hands, as many of the deeds, for the purpose of concealing the prices paid, expressed but the consideration, "$1 00." The real value of the lands sold was no doubt fully up to $200,000. For purposes of reference and comparison we furnish here the real estate transactions—deeds and mortgages—for each month of 1870, as published in McCormick's Directory.

RAILROAD MEETING.—The closing act in the drama of "A Hundred Thousand Dollars," will be performed this evening at the Court house. We are not informed as to the amount raised by the committee, and cannot, therefore, indicate to our citizens how much they must come out to-night, but the committee and the friends of the enterprise who have assisted the committee, express themselves as determined to finish up the job this night. The hundred thousand has got to come upon some terms. Whatever is lacking to-night, will have to be made up, as a matter of course, by the enlargement of subscriptions already made. Whatever may be the total reported by the committee, it must be admitted on all sides that what energy, industry and perseverance could do, has been done by the committee. They have worked steadily, against circumstances and difficulties of the most discouraging character, and overlooking the size of a very large proportion of the subscriptions, it is almost a wonder how they have obtained even so much as the amount to be reported. But everybody should go to the Court house to-night ready and willing to do whatever remains to be done.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE IN THE SUBURBS.—On Saturday Mr. A. B Richardson sold at guardian's sale several tracts of land belonging to the Black estate, situated a mile below the northern limits of the city. Several parties have commenced operations preparatory to commence the erection of dwelling houses in that direction, and the land at that neighborhood has, therefore, greatly advanced in value within the last few months. The tracts offered on Saturday were as follows:

A tract of	acres	$2,415
A " of	acres	2,375
A " of	3 acres	1,380
A " of	1 acre	580
A tract of	4 3-10 of an acre	930
Average per acre, $457 30.

The above prices would have been thought, a few years ago, very extravagant, but the general opinion was on Saturday rather in favor of the buyers and they will double again within the next year.

SHIPPING ITEMS.—The bark Rodolfo which sailed from San Francisco for this port to load with wheat for England arrived last evening. She brings no freight.

Mr. H. Boyd, Agent for San Francisco Underwriters, has received intelligence that the bark Ajax arrived at San Francisco with a portion of her cargo damaged. She was loaded heavily with flour and wheat and was out through most all the late rough weather.

The bark Live Yankee was off and on the bar for several days of last week. On Friday when the steamer of Victoria, the steam tug was preparing to go outside to tow her in.

The bark Helen, from San Francisco to load with Salem flour for Rio, South America, is now due at his port.

The steamship George W. Wright did not sail from the Columbia river till last Thursday. The Wright sailed on that day for San Francisco.

FREIGHT FROM CALIFORNIA.—The following is the list of freights brought up by the Ajax, which arrived Friday night at too late an hour for us to obtain her manifest for Saturday morning's paper: 250 doz brooms, 185 cases boots and shoes, 371 bxs candles, 2 bxs coffee, 19 crates, 17 pkgs crockery, 102 pkgs castings, 11 do cigars, 91 do drugs, 2 do mustard and sodfish, 1646 bars iron and steel, 486 pkgs implements, 3 bales hops, 13 pkgs furniture, 26 rolls leather, 37 pkgs dried apples, 131 do mustard, spices, etc., 268 do liquors, brandy, whisky butters etc., 48 bxs tobacco, 51 pkgs tobaccos, 241 kegs syrup, 100 bxs soap, 64 pkgs stationery, 20 bxs and 1 bales raisins, 233 half bbls and 136 bbls sugar, 335 sheets tea, 22 pkgs wagon timber and 8 bales sacks.

REVIEW OF BATTALION COMMANDER.—The seven Militia companies of this city met at the Armory of the Bell Cadets and proceeded under orders to the election of a Major of the battalion, resulting in the choice of Mr. Jas Lotan, formerly a member of the Washington Guards. Subsequent to his election, Maj Lotan appointed as Adjutants Mr. Ward S. Stevens, to the rank of Lieutenant and Dr. J. C. Ryan, Surgeon. The election of Major Lotan was quite unanimous. The boys have made a good selection.

CLARKE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The first meeting of the new Board of Managers of the above county Agricultural and Mechanical Society will take place on Saturday next, at 1 o'clock P. M., at the District Court House in Vancouver. The Secretary, Mr. [illegible] requests issues an urgent invitation to [illegible] interested in the development of [illegible] to attend this meeting, as it is [illegible] here devise means for putting the Society [illegible] in a permanent basis.

G. A. R.—A Department Encampment, [illegible] was held at the rooms [illegible] last Saturday evening, when the following Department officers were [illegible] Department Commander P. Randall; S. V. C. H. B. Oatman; [illegible] Langley Hall, Medical Director, Dr. [illegible] M. Mack; Chaplain Joseph P. Fort. Council of Administration, H. Beuse, A. Cornart, E. W. Ryan, E. M. Crane, and Phillip Curwell. M. Hosford was elected Representative at large to the National Encampm at.

RECOVERING.—Mr. Ed. Glennon who was so severely stabbed a few days since, is rapidly recovering, and it is now thought that he will be about in a few days. At the time of the stabbing the internal hemorrhage was so full that it seemed impossible he should live, and the general expectation was to hear in the morning of his death. The case seems to have been well treated by Dr. Giltner, who has certainly been very successful with this class of wounds.

RAILROAD HANDS INJURED.—A man named Mathews, employed on the railroad at East Portland, was run over by a gravel car and seriously injured. He was taken to the Company's hospital for treatment. On Friday afternoon, a man named Decker, employed by the Railroad Company at Kalama, had a leg broken and received injuries about the head by a falling limb of a tree. He was brought to this city on Saturday for treatment, and placed in the care of Dr. Giltner.

FROM KALAMA.—Col. Chapman telegraphed from Kalama last evening the following somewhat mysterious dispatch:

KALAMA, Feb. 5.

"Kalama—kind friends to-night—Home by the twilight to morrow."

We are exceedingly glad to hear from our good friend the Colonel; but we do wonder what has caused him to commence writing dispatches so strikingly after the manner of George Francis Train?

PREACHING IN GERMAN.—Rev. R. Weidler, late of the mission service in Texas, and who arrived by the last steamer, preached in German at the Lutheran Church last evening. Mr. Weidler was sent out a year and a half ago as a missionary preacher from Berlin, Prussia. He is said to be an educated and eloquent divine.

BALL.—On the 7th of March the Second Annual Ball, for the benefit of the Hebrew German school, Ahabai Shalome, will be given. A fuller announcement will be made.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—The second M. E. quarterly meeting of the Vancouver circuit, began on Saturday, Rev. J. F. Devore, presiding.

The steamship Ajax is advertised to sail for San Francisco at 4 o'clock P. M., next Wednesday.

PORTLAND LIBRARY.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATION—REPORTS OF OFFICERS—AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Feb. 4, 1871.

The regular annual meeting of the members of the Library Association of Portland, was held at their rooms this evening. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. L. H. Wakefield. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. The object of the meeting was stated by the President to be the hearing of the reports of the officers of the Association, and the voting upon an amendment to the Constitution.

The Librarian and President each submitted their Annual Report, as follows:

Librarian's Report.

LIBRARY ROOMS,
PORTLAND, Oregon, Jan. 1st, 1871.

To the President and Members of the Library Association of Portland—GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to submit the following report of the statistics and operations of the Library and Reading Rooms, from the date of the last Annual Report, (Feb. 5th, 1870) to the present time. The total number of books loaned from the Library during the year, was 11,247, which were classified as follows:

Fiction, 7,928, Travels, 654; History, 682; Biography, 478; Religion, 8; Poetry, 280, Science, 244; Miscellany, 830; Bound Period, 91. Total, 11,267.

The number of books loaned during the year is 420 greater than the preceding one; showing an increase of nearly 3 7-8 per cent., which, although not so large as that of the year previous, is still satisfactory evidence of the growing appreciation of the merits of the institution. The additions made to the Library during the year, have amounted to 436 volumes, 389 of which were purchased, and 39 were secured by donation. The whole were classified as follows:

Fiction, 113; Travels, 29; History, 20; Biography, 51; Religion, 19; Science, 21, Poetry, 16; Miscellany, 117; Bound Period, 52. Total, 438.

The above 349 volumes were purchased at a total cost of $771 99.

The books already upon the shelves of the Library, together with those added during the year, make a total of 3,608, which being classified and arranged into their several departments, make the number in each as follows:

Fiction, 911; Travels, 257; History, 384; Biography, 223, Religion, 131; Science, 274; Poetry, 184; Miscellany, 780; Bound Period, 492; Jurisprudence and Government, 52. Total, 3,698.

During the year the Association has been presented with valuable books, works of art, etc., as follows:

L. H. Wakefield, Oil painting of Niagara.
L. A. Davenport, Original Engraving by Hogarth of Simon, Lord Loval.
Elbridge Geery, Old Indian Mortar and Pestle.
J. Quin Thornton, first Almanac calculated in Oregon.
L. Coldwell, Birdseye view of Portland.
J. Field, Map of the United States, 1783, and Journal of Congress for 1775.
Boston Library, 17th Annual Report.
H. R. Kincaid, Report on Proposals to build a Railroad from Lake Michigan to the Pacific ocean.

The several publishers of newspapers in this State and the adjoining Territories continue to furnish us gratuitously with files of their publications.

The whole number of members at present belonging to the Association is 303, classified as follows:

Life members, 1; Honorary members, 9, Subscribing members, 203, showing a decrease of 5 Honorary members since the last annual report. Of the subscribing members only those now paying are enumerated in the list. In compliance with the requirements of the contract made by the Board of Directors a year ago, for the keeping of Meteorological observations, I can only say that they have been correctly and studiously kept. The following is the yearly mean of all the observations: [The table referred to was published a few days since in the OREGONIAN.—ED.]

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES D. REED,
Librarian.

President's Report.

To the Members of the Library Association of Portland—GENTLEMEN: On behalf of the Directors of the Association, and in consequence of the resignation of the President, by the requirements of the Constitution, I have the honor to submit for your consideration this, the seventh annual report of the Association.

It affords me much pleasure to be able to announce to you the prosperous condition of the Association, during the year just closed; and especially have we reason for congratulation, if we should turn back to the struggle to maintain the life of the Association during the first two years of its organization. The first subscriptions were obtained during the winter of 1863-4, subject to the control of the bonafied subscribers, when the organization should be completed. The total amount subscribed and collected was $2,661 50, coin; $2,000 of which was remitted to New York for the purchase of books, which must be placed upon the shelves of the Library before it could successfully commence operations.

After sending the $2,000 for books, there remained the sum of $561 50 to be expended in furnishing the rooms first occupied by the Association, leaving little or nothing when completed to pay the freight on the books as they should arrive, and the current expenses of the Association. In the face of all these discouragements, with such a small membership, the Board of Directors were compelled to run into debt, to the amount of some $800, in plastering and finishing the rooms to be occupied by the Association. As the Association felt themselves too poor to pay a competent Librarian and Recording Secretary, with the exception of evenings and, perhaps, one or two hours at noon, the reading rooms were left pretty much to take care of themselves; the whole expense for Librarian and Secretary, not exceeding $20 per month for the first three years of its existence. Taking this brief and cursory retrospection of the commencement and progress of the Association, the friends and patrons of the Library Association have good reason to rejoice at its present prosperous condition, its future prospects, bright or otherwise, depending very much upon the judicious management of its affairs by the Board of Directors, and also, very much upon the liberality of the liberal and generous citizens, who have been ready to render it pecuniary assistance when necessary.

Many of the large-hearted and liberal men of our country, at their decease, have bequeathed their fortunes to similar institutions to this. Would it not have been better, more consistent with true liberality, if a part of their fortunes had been bestowed in their lifetime, to charity and the founding of institutions calculated, by their benign influences, to repress crime and benefit the race. In a spirit directly opposed to all that is liberal and generous, is the oft repeated reply of many who are able to bestow liberally—did not the heart forbid: "I have a nice library of my own, and have no need of a public library." Such an answer indicates supreme selfishness and want of liberality. In many of the New England towns public libraries are supported by taxation, and are made accessible to all without charge. I know of no good reason why a part of the expense necessary to maintain this library should not be borne by the city, as a part of the necessary expense of the city government.

By the following statistical information, the management, operations, and general condition of the Association for the year, will be apparent:

FINANCES OF THE ASSOCIATION.

From the report of the Finance Committee (William S. Ladd, Esq., Chairman), the following statement of the finances of the Association has been prepared:

RECEIPTS.

Balance on hand, Jan. 1, 1870	$ 30 44
Received for quarterly dues	2,654 75
" " fines	153 10

Total	$2,989 95
Leaving a balance in the treasury of	26 09

The receipts for quarterly dues for 1870 in excess of 1869, are $302.

Nothing has been received during 1870 from initiation fees, rents, lectures and subscriptions for furnishing rooms, from which source there was derived during the year 1869, the sum of $1,169.

I append the receipts and disbursements as taken from the last annual report as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Quarterly dues	$2,852 75
Initiation fees	75 00
Fines	141 55
Rents	140 00
Lectures	235 00
Subscriptions for furnishing rooms, etc	640 00

" " furnishing rooms	1,328 00
Total	$3,979 80
Liabilities of the Association on Dec. 1869,	$264 15.

By the above tabular statement, it will be seen that there was paid out for newspapers during 1870 in excess of 1869, the sum of $168 34.

While it may be necessary to have the tables and shelves well supplied with the leading papers and magazines of the day, the amount expended during the year 1870 might be curtailed, and the amount so saved invested in books.

BOOKS.

During the year 1870 there were added to the library, by purchase, 322 volumes, and by donation, 125 volumes.

According to the last annual report there were added to the library in 1867, by purchase, 443 volumes, and by donation, 64 volumes.

The amount paid for books during the year 1870 was $569 63, while the amount paid for books in 1869 was $572 71; being an excess in cost of books purchased in 1870 of $16 94.

The number of books in the library at last annual report was 3,180; number added during the year, 447; making the number now in the library, 3,627.

During the year 1870 the library loaned 11,267 volumes, classified as follows: Fiction, 7,928; travels, 654; miscellaneous, 330; science, 244; history, 682; biography, 478; religion, 80; poetry, 280; bound periodicals, 91. Books loaned in 1870 in excess of 1869, 420 volumes. It will be seen that nearly seven-tenths of the books loaned belong to those classified as "fiction," clearly indicating that, to maintain an association of this character, where the funds are derived from its membership, it is necessary to receive, and at as near the time of publication as possible, the current literature of the day.

During the year 1870 most of the books have been purchased in San Francisco, under an arrangement entered into by the Chairman of the Committee, on the Library (Hon. M. P. Deady) on terms exceedingly favorable to the association. Much depends upon a proper selection of books, and the labor imposed upon the committee is very much more onerous and constant than that upon any other committee of the association; especially when performed with a careful eye, as it has been, to the interest of the association.

I respectfully refer you to the report of the librarian for a list of books, pictures, etc., presented to the association during the year.

The association is under many obligations to the publishers of newspapers in the city and country in Oregon and Washington Territory, for the files of their papers without charge to the association.

MEMBERSHIP.

The whole number of members belonging to the Association at the present time is 303, classified as follows:

Life members	1
Honorary members	9
Yearly members	34
Quarterly members	259
Total	303

The whole number belonging to the Association during the year, was 444.

Of the thirty-four yearly members, twenty-eight belonged to the Association at the time of becoming yearly members, and six are new members, thus adding to the funds of the Association by the increased receipts, the sum of $514.

ROOMS.

We still occupy the splendid suit of rooms so generously leased to us without charge by Wm S. Ladd, Esq., for three years from the 1st of March, 1869.

METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS.

The arrangement about to be consummated, at the time of the last annual meeting, with the City Council, were entered into, and according to the terms of the agreement, the Association has received the sum of fifteen dollars per month from the city for keeping the meteorological record.

For the statistical meteorological information obtained, I respectfully refer you to the report of the Librarian.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

At the last annual meeting, the Constitution was amended, dividing the subscribing members into Yearly and Quarterly Members, and fixing the fees for the former at $25 per annum, payable in advance; while the latter remain at $3 per quarter, as before the amendment was made.

By order of the Board of Directors, notice has been given of a proposed amendment to the Constitution, constituting three a quorum of the Board of Directors, instead of six, the present constitutional number.

The Board of Directors, without exception, are busily employed upon matters pertaining to their own or public business, so that it has been impossible to secure a quorum, for the transaction of business without serious loss of time to some and great inconvenience to other members of the Board.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

During the last year some changes have taken place in the Board. Mr. C. H. Lewis, one of the founders of the Association, and one of the Board of Directors from its organization, and President of the Board, from the last annual meeting, up to the time of his resignation, deemed it indispensable that he should tender his resignation, as a member of the Board of Directors, which, after some delay, was reluctantly accepted.

Mr. Lyle W. Gilliland, who served you as Librarian and Recording Secretary for two years, and "was faithful and diligent in the performance of his duties," having a more remunerative situation in prospect, his resignation being tendered was accepted.

Mr. James S. Read, who was chosen Librarian on the retirement of Mr. Gilliland, has performed his duties as Secretary, as far as we know, to the general acceptance of the members of the association. The accounts and records of the association have been examined by the Finance Committee and found to be neatly and accurately kept.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

L. H. WAKEFIELD, President.

PORTLAND, February 4, 1871.

THE UNK WEED REMEDY!
OR OREGON
RHEUMATIC CURE.
HISTORY:
THIS REMEDY IS COMPOSED OF THE ACTIVE principle of the Unk Weed, Eng.—Thaspium, Cordatum, Origanum, Lat.—Indigenous to Oregon—Grows most abundantly and perfectly in Washington county.
PROPERTIES, &c.:
It contains an active volatile principle extracted by Ether, and a bitter Tonic principle.
Medical Properties and Uses:
It is the most Sure and Speedy Cure for Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout and Rheumatic Pains of all kinds that has ever been introduced in the Materia Medica. The Unk Weed Remedy as prepared by us, in consequence of the existing bitter principle, possesses the necessary virtue of being a POWERFUL TONIC!
Promoting the Appetite and Invigorating the whole Digestive Apparatus, thus building and strengthening the system, while at the same time the volatile principle, being absorbed in the blood, acts specifically on the Rheumatic Poison, removing it from the circulation and system.
There are few remedies known to the Medical profession, which will remove the Rheumatic poison from the blood, but whose action is so powerful in depressing the system of the already enfeebled Rheumatic patient, that their use has to be abandoned before specific effects are obtainable. Hence the want of success in treating this prevalent, and in consequence, heretofore inburable disease. Unlike these Medicines, already known, the
"Unk weed Remedy"
Though producing as powerful and as active effects on the blood and system in removing the Rheumatic Poison, also possesses a strong Tonic and recuperating element, which admits of its continued use even in the most delicate and debilitated. Thus we have the combination for the first time of these two necessary elements in the one remedy, which accounts for its superior and never failing curative effects in

STITZEL & WILSON,

Gleanings and Gossip.

Thomas Higgs lately won a bet in Columbia, S. C., by getting outside of three bottles of wine. The other party to the wager advertises for Higgs's heirs to come forward and take the money.

Ex-Governor Wilson Lumpkin of Georgia, who died lately, at Athens, in that State, at the advanced age of 88, was probably the oldest of all our living ex-members of Congress. He was a member of the House of Representatives, fifty-five years ago.

Congressman Logan's wife was said to have been his most potent advocate for the United States senatorship, winning the legislators at the Illinois capital by her personal and social attractions, as Mrs. Douglas used to serve the ambition of the "Little Giant."

St. Anthony's Nose, that picturesque bluff on the Hudson river, is being sacrificed to the genius of the age. Its rock abounds in amphiphrona pyrites, and the oil of vitriol manufacturers are blowing St. Anthony's Nose in a way no nose can stand. Extensive sulphuric acid works occupy an island near, to roast the ore on the spot.

This eminently natural speech was delivered by a young woman, at the women's convention at Akron, O., to wit: "For my own part, I love man, individually, collectively, better than woman; and so, I am sure, does every one of my sex, if they, like me, would utter their real sentiments. I am more anxious for man's elevation and improvement than for woman's, and so is every true woman."

The following bon mot is attributed to Count Bismarck: In his interview with Theirs he pointed out the difficulty of treating with an irregular government, such as that of Paris. "Perhaps, then, you will prefer treating with the government of the emperor!" said Theirs. "Oh, no," said the count, "the emperor has been skilful enough not only to destroy his own dynasty, but also to bury his rivals completely."

A young woman of Cleveland has sued a man for assault and battery, in pulling from her mouth three sound front teeth. She claims to lose a decayed back tooth, and a singular attempt to persuade her to make a clean sweep and then have a false set, gave her cue and she was aroused by the pain to find three teeth gone and others in danger. That dentist must have badly wanted a job.

A national banking-house has formally prohibited any of its clerks, having a salary less than $800 a year, from getting married. Now, suppose Parliament should formally prohibit this banking-house giving its clerks less than at salaries such. If the banking-house discriminates against marriage, why should not the government, whose interests are allied to the holy institution, discriminate to promote it?

There is a semblance of sovereignty over the diamond regions in Africa. The people have set up for themselves after the American fashion but the British authorities at Cape Town had sent out a magistrate to rule over them, and the diamonders protests. The latest news is that the diamond region is extending, and now covers a hundred miles of country; that the population was 10,000; that one man had found two diamonds worth $750,000; that one hundred claims are among the recent prizes; and yet that many persons had been unsuccessful, and some of them are suffering great privations in endeavoring to return to their homes.

The Communists occupying the champagne districts of France, one a traveler through them writes, at present they were selling an excellent eight-dollar champagne for four francs a bottle. What champagne drinkers the Germans are! "Fine bouche sec" is their greatest passion. From Epernay to Chalons we dined with a gentleman whose name I could not at first make out. The conversation turning upon champagne, he invited me to the cellar of the growths and we tasted many. Some of them he spoke of as being his. It was one of the partners in the house of Moet & Chandon. I don't know whether he was Moet, or whether he was Chandon, or sold us the war had already sent them for. (£20,000).

The Drags of American Slavery.

A most interesting case that, when tried, will be a vivid reminder of the dark cloud of human bondage from which we have emerged, has just been transferred from the Superior Court of Cincinnati to the United States Court for the Southern District of Ohio.

The case was originally brought in the Superior Court against Zeb. Ward by Henrietta Wood a mulatto woman of this city, who alleges that Ward was instrumental in having her kidnapped and sold into slavery, in which condition she remained for fifteen years. The case has been transferred the matter having been accomplished last Saturday, on the representation of Mr. Ward, who alleges that he is a citizen of Kentucky.

The petition avers that in 1853, and for many years previous thereto, she was a free mulatto woman, residing in Cincinnati; and that the defendant Zeb. Ward, together with Robert Boyd, kidnapped and abducted her from her place of abode, to be delivered to the defendant Ward in the State of Kentucky, the defendant Ward owing her to be a free woman and a resident of Cincinnati.

The plaintiff alleges that Ward kept her in bondage seven months, and then sold her to Wm Pulhain, a slaver, who took her to the State of Mississippi, and sold her to one Girard Brandon for the sum of $1,050. The said Brandon forced and compelled her to labor on his plantations in Mississippi and Texas as a common field hand for fifteen years.

The plaintiff further alleges that by reason of said slavery, as aforesaid, she was deprived of her time and the value of her labor as stated above; that her services were worth at least $500 per year, and also that during that period, she was subject to many hardships, abuse and oppression, and was prevented from returning to her home until April, 1869.

The damages she claimed to have sustained are laid at $20,000.

The attorneys for plaintiff are Lincoln, Smith, Warnock & Stevens, and Henry Myers; for the defendant, Hoadly, Jackson & Johnson.

"Satan's Rockets" is the cheerful name for the invention of M. Ludre, a French engineer. The machine consists of a conical tin receiver filled with petroleum, and having at its face a chamber containing a compostition with sulphur of carbon as a base, and which in combustion gives out a tremendous heat. This is put at the end of an ordinary rocket, and when it is fired and strikes the earth, a match is ignited that fires this composition and sets the petroleum ablaze. This rain of fire will cover a space of from twenty to twenty-five yards square, according to the size of the rocket. They are manufacturing three sizes. The first throws a quarter of a gallon of petroleum; the second half a gallon, and the third a gallon. They can be thrown three and one-half miles. The aim is very accurate, and the effects of experiments were so illustrous that the committee of artillery officers declare no civilized nation should use it except in retaliation, and that it should be employed solely in the event of the Prussians throwing shells filled with petroleum into Paris, as they did at Strasbourg. Two hundred workmen, however, have been busied in preparing these rockets, in case their use should be necessary.

Mark Twain has written a letter to the New York Tribune, concerning John H. Surratt as a lecturer, in which he says that Surratt's business manager has scarcely used means to create an impression that Surratt is being persecuted. This is done for the purpose of awakening public curiosity, and thereby securing large audiences. "Mark" sensibly concludes as follows: "But if it is desired that Mr. Surratt drop entirely out of the public notice in three short weeks, it is only necessary to let him alone and cease to make public mention of him. His little candle would straightway begin to burn weaker and weaker, and the 'cabbage head' would begin to develop more and more prominently on its top, and presently the poor thing would flicker out and pass away in a film of smoke, leaving nothing behind but an evanescent stench."

AN AFFECTIONATE PARISHIONER.—"The Curate—O, dear, O, dear! Drunk again, Jones! Drunk again!! And in broad daylight, too!! Jones—"Lorshir (hic), whatsh the oddsh!! Sh—Sh—She am I!"—Punch.

In 1869 New York issued 2,348 building permits, and Philadelphia 4,878. In 1870 New York issued 2,189 building permits, and Philadelphia 5,237, or more than twice as many. Is it any wonder that even the free-trade Evening Post admits that "there is no doubt that industrious mechanics, clerks and laboring people live far more comfortably in Philadelphia than in New York?" So much for protected manufactures.
